2. PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

Time never stops moving. We cannot turn back the clock. Every day, the moments march on. In each moment, each of us chooses what to do.

In business, time is money. The team that most effectively uses the time it has every day, is the team that succeeds when others fail. Effectively using the time that we have can be quite a difficult and stressful challenge. Failing to get everything done in a given day can be depressing. This is why successful time management requires effective stress management and efficient priority management.

Our Time, Priority & Stress Management course empowers delegates to assess their behavior and that of their team in the workplace. Delegates learn how to create and maintain effective task lists for themselves and their team, and to prioritise those tasks for optimum efficiency. They will also learn how to use effective time management tools to plan and implement a work schedule.

3. LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of the Time, Priority & Stress Management course, delegates will be able to:

- Create, implement and maintain a personal and team task list.
- Use and maintain a diary.
- Prioritise personal and team tasks.
